FRUIT TREE SPRAYING

Ohio Agricultural Commission Will Give Demonstration in Perrysburg.

On this (Thursday) afternoon, April 22, at 1 o'clock a member of the Ohio Agricultural Commission has been assigned to Perrysburg at the request of the Journal to give a demonstration of Spraying and Pruning on trees at the home of E. L. Blue on Front street.

Every person interested is urged to be present.

Mr. Frank Eckle, Jr., has promised to bring his sprayer for use of the Commission and every property owner in town should take an interest in the work and see the demonstration.

APPLE SCAB.

Professor W. Paddock of the Horticultural Department of the College of Agriculture, recently said, in a talk on the causes of failure in apple crops, that when all is said and done it will probably be found that apple scab is one of the principal agents causing the failure of trees to get fruit. The fungus which causes apple scab starts into growth in the spring of the year with the tree and by the time the tree blossoms the spores are abundant. These spores are carried in the air to the tender blossoms which they attack and may destroy in quantities. The little fruits may set, but the attack of fungus saps their vitality and soon most of them fall. Scab, he said, can be controlled if orchardists will only practice thorough spraying, and that now is the time to spray.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Concerning Nothing Very Serious But Worthy of Thought.

The few refreshing showers of the past two weeks have brightened the earth, put new life into every living and growing thing, and calls to mind the following beautiful lines from Robert Loveman:

It isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining daffodils;
In every dimpled drop I see
Wild flowers on the hills.
The clouds of gray engulf the day
And overwhelm the town—
It isn't raining rain for me
It's raining roses down.
It isn't raining rain to me,
But fields of clover bloom
Where any buccaneering bee
May find a bed and room.
A health unto the happy—
A fig for him who frets—
It isn't raining rain to me
It's raining violets.

The roller skate is "coming back" it never really went out, as far as the children are concerned. Now however young ladies have taken it up—not in skating rinks, by the way, but in the open air,—for exercise and fun on the sidewalks and smooth pavements of the city streets. On any fine evening on the best and most exclusive streets in the residence districts of Chicago, groups and couples of girls from 18 to 22 may be seen gliding along over the smooth surface of the walks. The fad has struck many of the smaller places in different parts of the country and already the village kill-joys are protesting and calling for laws to prohibit skating on the sidewalks. It was ever thus. No sooner does youth find a new way of amusing itself—no matter how innocent—than some long faced, vinegar-blooded reformer is out with a protest and a demand that the young people be presented with the alternative of abounding their fun or becoming criminals by the infraction of a prohibitory ordinance. There was at one time a well-grounded prejudice against skating rinks. These places, nowadays, are usually so well conducted that they are comparatively safe. But there can be no just objection to the young girls bringing the bloom of health to their cheeks by such beneficial exercise as roller skating on the sidewalks of their own home town and in company with the same girls with whom they associate at other times. Let the reformers purchase roller skates and use them. It will work off some of the bile and give them a brighter outlook on life.

Over 300 automobiles passed along Front street on Sunday last between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m., carrying over 1000 people from neighboring towns and cities, all of whom had occasion to observe that Front street was in worse condition than most of the country roads of the county.

Arlington, O., lost more than $4,000 on its municipal electric light plant during 1914, according to a recent investigation says the Public Service Magazine. Does Perrysburg wish to get into the same game?

Why not start a "Clean Up, Paint Up" Campaign in Perrysburg. Here's a chance for Council and Civic Association to get together and "Boost Perrysburg."

WHOOPIING COUGH.

Well—everyone knows the effect of Pine Forests on Coughs. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is a remedy which brings quick relief for Whooping Cough, loosens the mucus, soothes the lining of the throat and lungs, and makes the coughing spells less severe. TWO FISHERMEN CONVICTED

State game wardens say they will continue their campaign against illegal seining in Maumee river in the vicinity of Maumee village. The first success of the campaign came last week when Henry Miller and Peter Brell, both of Maumee, were arrested. Both pleaded guilty. The justice fined Brell $100 and costs and Miller $25 and costs.

The game wardens say that one of the distressing features of illegal seining is that the fish are caught in Maumee rapids on their way to the spawning grounds, farther up stream.

FULTON HONORED

Clerk of Courts-elect Fulton Heads W. O. W. of Ohio.

George B. Fulton, mayor of North Baltimore and Clerk of the courts-elect, has been signally honored by the W. O. W. of Ohio. At a meeting just held in Toledo he was chosen as head consul, the highest office in the state. Newark was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Mr. Fulton's executive ability, his knowledge of the principles and objects of the Order has made him exceptionally worthy of the high honor he has received.

DR. PHELEY'S TRAVEL TALKS.

On Sunday last every seat in the Presbyterian church was occupied by people who were delighted with the splendid service.

A pleasing feature was the charming singing of "Abide With Me," by Mrs. Cook, with ten beautiful scenes illustrative of the beautiful hymn.

The pictures of scenes in the holy land and the story of their association with the life of Christ, as told by Dr. Pheley, were extraordinarily pleasing and instructive.

These services are growing better and hope is expressed that Dr. Pheley will begin a new series. The service on this Sunday night (April 25) will be the eighth or last of the proposed series, and no one should miss this number.

THE "PRUDENT MAN" SEES THAT HIS SON HAS A BANK ACCOUNT

This would be a more prosperous community if every father in it would say to his boy: "Son, start a bank account this very week and every dollar you save and put in the bank I'll give you another dollar to put in the bank with it"—and if everybody would have SENSE enough to do it.

The "PRUDENT" young man who banks his money becomes a PROSPEROUS man.
